Shankar Jaikishan (SJ)made a tumultuous debut, with a blockbuster hit Barsat, in 1949. They were young, did not belong to the elite strata of society. Their only capital was their infinite talent and burning desire. Their journey from Barsat to Gouri in 1989 was a sustained uphill journey. They broke all records of record sales and box office collections. At one point in their career, SJ was synonymous with Silver Jubilee. Forty jubilee hits, with Barsat running for 100 plus weeks. Math They won nine Filmfare Awards and nominated almost every year, 1959 to 1974. This book covers their arduous journey of matchless success on a path of thorns. Dr. Dattatreya and Dr. Geetha Pujari, have covered this journey. They met Shankar a few times and had their script approved by the maestro, way back in 1984. They published this book in Hindi, Shankar Jaikishan ki Swar Sadhana. This was in 2002.

This story spans from late seventies to the turn of this century. A simple girl from a small town, brought up on strong middle-class values by literate and hard working parents, who value education fore-most. She studies to be a doctor in a semi- urban town, goes through the pleasures and pains of professional college, makes friends for a lifetime. Defying societal laws, she takes up surgery as her specialization, the first woman to do so in that college. She faces tremendous resistance not only from her conservative bosses but also some colleagues who feel that girls have no place in their surgical world. Her values draw her towards the poor and needy who can ill- afford expensive medical treatment which take her to a small town for setting up her own facility. From crooked referral doctors to scheming senior colleagues, she faces difficulty at every stage. Life sends her back to school to become a neuro- surgeon, and across the world. She returns to India equipped with the most advanced skills to treat a dreaded neurological problem. She has risen above so much that the world cannot stop her from reaching new heights of success, in spite of being a woman in a man's world. . The friends she makes, the doctors who work with her, the relationships she forms, all form the tapestry of her enriched life.

This intimate autobiography, rich in details of a society in transition, was written by one of India's earliest women doctors. Though a child widow, driven from pillar to post, Haimabati nourished an ambition for higher education, eventually trained as a medical practitioner, and became the 'Lady Doctor' in charge of Hughli Dufferin Hospital for Women. Haimabati's memoir illustrates the predicament of a woman determined to earn an honourable living in a man's world. This extraordinary account, the longest and most detailed memoir yet discovered by an Indian woman born in the nineteenth century, was originally written in lined school notebooks in Haimabati's native language, Bengali.

SYNOPSIS This tale traces a part of the life of Yash and his doctor friends, namely Tania, Maahi, Krishna, Siddhanta and Balminder. This story and theme are one of those which has been attempted for the first time. There have been stories on general doctors but never especially on DENTISTS or their life. A dentist ever shown in movies is generally depicted as a funny or a stupid or a desperate person. This story takes the reader inside a 'Dental College' and 'A hospital' to bring out the incidents that go on. These include a viva, argument with teachers, a doctor slapping his mate in front of the patients and getting two notices from the principal. A strike against the hike in fees and its 'political' end by the college management, the chaos when a HOD enters the department, the atmosphere before a Dental council inspection in the college. From viewing surgeries performed by their favourite teachers to finally the feeling of going and registering as one... The Toothful Tale covers it all. It all starts on a train in which a young dentist (Yash) is going for his Internship. In the train, he finds company with a girl (Anvesha) who is a first-year student in his college. The girl forgets to ask what Yash does and a hilarious incident tells Anvesha that Yash is a senior in her own college! A tale in which, young doctors learn to examine and deal with a variety of patients ranging from a man who has Trigeminal Neuralgia (The worlds worst skull-cracking headache) to a woman who cannot close her mouth due to Mandibular Dislocation. They see a patient who has broken a safety pin in his tooth, keep cool when one comes and fights with them, meet a crying 55-year man who holds their feet and then a 70-year-old man who desires to die instead of living in pain. From a 16 year old boy who has a life threatening allergic reaction called as Toxic Epidermal Necrolysis to a dead body that has the brain and eye hanging out. From a 15 yr boy who has Psoriatic Arthritis, to a 35-year-old woman who has Pemphigus Vulgaris - The most deadly skin disease in the world. They take part in the surgery on a case of Temporomandibular Joint Ankylosis and enjoy the comments made by the operating dentist. It also traces the thoughts of the new doctors as they encounter these cases. They on their part, try to deal with the inhuman attitude of the nurses and the ward boys toward the ailing patients and do their part in making life easy and comfortable for the ailing... They find around them many serious things that include infanticide in the sewer and studying for a good life. They play with small kids, cry over the thought of being bad to parents, feel happy when good incidents come in others life, listen to a real-life story told by a Railway Engine Driver From discussing dowry to bringing out a small truth in today's most marriages; and doing their part to help and punish some dastardly acts such as eve-teasing, child abuse and trying to stop a group of rioters of a political party. They enjoy hilarious incidents over a year such as puncturing a teacher's car tyre to impersonating one at a conference. They go for tours, live for two days without electricity and sometimes race cars at night on the Marine Drive. From using their sophisticated dental instruments to handling weird and irresistible gadgets, from discussing funny errors taking place in the clinics with patients to saving innocent juniors from ragging, they do it all... A friendship story that starts in a train and unknowingly blooms into a heart tickling love tale. A tale that brings out the feelings of a boy and a girl when they go out together for the first time on an outing, a tale that tells about the pleasures of sneaking out of the hostel for the thrill of getting wet in the rain with someone you like. Some different ideas of romance wherein, they go for a round through the wards of a hospital, get their teeth cleaned on a dental chair and recreate the appearance of a 13 year old young boy with a broken tooth. A story in which, a proposal on the Yamuna Bridge gets its suitable reply in the world's finest building - The Taj Mahal. There is love, fun and then there is the girl slapping the boy for his mistake that nearly costs him his life. A romantic kiss that starts in 2008 and ends in 2009, getting engaged for real in a heartwarming situation at the end, The Dentists live a year of life that everyone wants to live at least once...

One of India's best-loved film directors, Hrishikesh Mukherjee is perhaps best known today for his perennially popular creations like Anand, Chupke Chupke and Gol Maal. But Hrishi-da's best work was provocative, wide-ranging and always aware of the complexities of people and their relationships. Often combining breezy narratives with serious ideas, his films created a distinct world with recurring themes. Jai Arjun Singh looks closely at Hrishikesh Mukherjee's oeuvre, from well-known films like Satyakam, Guddi, Abhimaan and Khubsoorat to lesser known works such as Mem-Didi, Biwi aur Makaan and Anuradha. Combining a fan's passion with a critic's rigour, The World of Hrishikesh Mukherjee is a must-read for anyone who takes their filmed entertainment seriously.

About the Book: They are on a mission, He's the operator, She's the handler. It's the mission of Seduction. The Mission gets the success, but yet everything goes haywire. He is gullible, OTT melodramatic and the mini version of SRK guy from Nagpur, who loves to be in love. She is a high class well to do Mumbaikar, a rebellious, independent, rude, unfiltered woman, with absolutely no respect to anything. Looks predictable, same old shitty love story, isn't it? But the story of THE ONE WITH THE BITCH, can be you, or may not be you, but you will surely don't want to end up like them. Or maybe you will? WILL YOU? About the Author: Pijush Sinha, 29-year-old founder, teacher and a newbie, wannabe writer, grew up in Chandrapur, The Black Gold City of India. Started his adventure with Chartered Accountancy, diverted to Restaurant business to earn some quick income, failed way miserably, but never giving up attitude and late realization of love of teaching, eventually led him to be founder of The Pine Academy, Nagpur, in 2015. He is also a Class X Mathematics doubt clearing educator with Unacademy online platform. From being expertise in writing Love letters for his friends during school times, to writing his first fiction romance THE ONE WITH THE BITCH. He's a notorious, adventurous, extra positive guy. Travelling, listening to music, smiling without any reason and especially at the most serious situations are some of his hobbies. Complete Urdu (Learn Urdu with Teach Yourself) Orangebooks Publication Yesterday's Melodies Today's Memories is a rare collection of profiles of all important music-makers of the Hindi Film Industry between 1931 and 1970. It not only gives a biographical background of each music artiste, but it goes further to interview many of the surviving giants and completes the task by listing some of the best songs with which that person is associated. Here are singers that include the whole gamut from KL Saigal to Asha Bhosle, lyricists that include Sahir and Gulzar, music composers from Naushad to RD Burman, artistes that were part-time singers and full time actors like Ashok Kumar, melody queens like Noor Jahan and Lata Mangeshkar, gentlemen lyricists like Prem Dhawan and gentlemen singers like Manna Dey, mischief-makers like Kishore Kumar and rebels without pause like OP Nayyar and Majrooh Sultanpuri. In fact, this book is a house in which all these great talents live happily, each in a separate room, given space for self-expression. The serious research that has gone into this book is evident as you move from one chapter to another, opening layers after layers presented non-seriously. Over 100 music makers are presented this way and many more in a huge single chapter.

We are extremely excited to have partnered with Songdew to celebrate and honor the eminent Urdu poet and lyricist, Late Dr Rahat Indori. Through couplets, ghazals and poems on a range of topics and social issues such as the status of women in society, he gained an unmatched status in the world of poetry as his work resonates with each and every generation. As an ode to him, we are happy to be part of a tribute dedicated to him and his exceptional work. This initiative gives upcoming artists a chance to showcase their talent on a national platform through their compositions based on Rahat ji's work. All the nine artists are extremely talented and it is an absolute pleasure to present their songs to all the avid music admirers. Also, just like Rahat ji's words weaved our imagination with hope, laughter and love; it's also equally marveling to see artists reimagining the lyrics and transforming his words into vivid paintings. This collaboration is our bid to memorialize him and his work for our listeners that cherish him and his legacy. - Sunil Kumaran (Big FM)

Symphonic Journey of Shankar Jaikishan Teach Yourself

'Doctor's den' is a collection of short stories that revolve around lives and loves of doctors, and the call of the profession, and vividly describe social and emotional situations. The work has potential to transport you to the inner world of doctors. It lets you experience their joys and sorrows, their strengths and shortcomings, their goals and aspirations, in short, their things. Each story is a different tale and encompasses altogether a different world. You read a story, finish it but the experience lingers. You still want to know what is happening in these people's lives later. In 'To doctor with love', a young woman is portrayed who is afraid of marrying a doctor, as she has seen closely her parents' life, yet she discovers love and marries a doctor. 'It's about life, honey' is a hilarious comedy albeit describes the loneliness of a doctor's wife. In the lead story, 'Doctor's den' the narrator Padma and her husband discover through the suspense but are saddened in the end. In 'Critical affairs' you come face to face with a sentimental and caring doctor. The author's best in the collection and close to heart, 'The enigma called life' may seem an inspiring tale, and the characters, Suhit and Nidhi, may stay for long in your memory. The stories 'The enigma called life' and 'A long autumn' are seriously intimate, and akin to Shakespearean tragedies. In 'Encounter of a fourth kind' Neelima finds it embarrassing when her friends call her husband a home-boy, but she soon discovers the better side of it. 'Seventh sense' tells you in short what a woman wants, whereas 'Decent proposal' depicts the stressful life of a busy proposal' depicts the stressful life of a busy doctor's wife. In 'The placebo effect' a meeting of CDWC, City Doctors' Wives' Club, is portrayed which appears to be a social event intended to allow the women to commiserate about and compare their lives. Ms. Dhvani expresses her concerns about her marriage but is suddenly reassured by a simple phone call from her husband. 'Matters of heart' relates to the working of another organization, the Secret Service in Self Interest or SSS. The narrator, Gori, is informed by the SSS of her husband's extra-marital affair, and she turns to her trusted friend, Nita, first for confirmation and advice. The other two stories '93, Banjara Hills' and 'Point Two Crossing' attempt to teach various lessons of life. The collection aims to entertain all through, unfolding the intimate details from the lives of persons no different from your own caring physicians, something in the stories may touch heart yet underlines the futility of life and leaves you sad in the end. Perhaps it has been designed on purpose, for a grief is more powerful affectation than joy, a sad face and a tearful eye stay for longer than a smiling face in your eye stay for longer than a smiling face in your memory cells. In short, 'Doctor's den' is designed to offer lightly satirical commentary on the social mores that might be associated with upper class families, and the author's attention to character details and motivation further enhance the appeal for his work. All through our life, it is for perfection we try. The struggle may benefit us materially, but we lose on many grounds. The personal and family life suffers. The daily struggle, long working hours, caring for those who are critically ill, and the very nature of the job blunts the feelings and finer emotions. A doctor's life is a gross imbalance in operation. Dealing with ill patients puts a great strain reflected in various personal relations with the wife and loved ones. The latter may complain or suffer or may not complain and suffer. The stories in the book depict these situations, and the underlying idea behind the work is what a storyteller wants entertaining the readers. Further, the stories are a work of fiction and any kind of resemblance with the real-life situations and persons may Doctor's Den Independently Published

Doctor Margaret in Delhi is Book 2 of The Azadi Series and a sequel to, Book 1: Doctor Margaret's Sea Chest. This historical fiction novel continues with Margaret's journey from the time she and her Canadian husband participated in the 1854 Crimean War. Doctor Margaret travels alone to India to be with her parents at the American Presbyterian Mission at Futehgurh, and then on to her posting at a hospital in Delhi. There she has to not only overcome work pressures, but also deal with her intimidators and intrigues of the Mughals, at the Delhi Red Fort. Margaret's tormentor since her childhood, Captain Albert, also joins a British regiment bound for service in India. The Russian, Captain Count Nicholai, whom Margaret had met in Crimea, also arrives in India under the guise of a French physician. The events leading up to the Indian Mutiny/Rebellion that breaks out in 1857 profoundly affect not only Margaret's life, but also of those who love her and others' who wish her harm. Also, mixed-up in the bedlam is one of the King of Delhi, Shah Zafar, Red Fort's Guard's sepoy, Sharif Khan Bhadur, the grandfather of Doctor Wallidad, an American doctor. The Azadi Series covers the exciting events and turmoil that inflamed India from 1857 to 1947, and led to her independence. Those incidences engulf the characters of this story at that time, and then later their descendant's lives, again in the 1960s.
